Duff Believes Tax Rate Increase Will Be Less Than FinCom Predicts

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff this week predicted that town department budgets will not require an increase in the tax rate - but he referred only to departments within his control.

His comments came in the wake of a Finance Committee report that a $4 rate increase could result from the combined school and town budgets - without consideration of special articles.

FinCom Chairman Phillips B. Marsden, enlarging on his report slightly, said the 1963 budgets were $540,000 higher than the total appropriated a year ago. His Committee trimmed $120,000 out of the proposal, leaving a net increase of $420,000. Of this, $226,000 is in the school budget, he stated.

Thus the increase in town department budgets is $194,000.

However, two weeks ago, Town Manager Duff told the Selectmen that the total proposed increase in his departments - prior to FinCom action of any kind - was $261,774.

He reported Tuesday that all cuts by the Finance Committee must be subtracted from this total

- and he believes that the result will find the town budgets well within reasonable totals. He explained that increased town valuation usually equals about $1 on the tax rate, and stated that this should be ample to pay for the increases in the town budgets. He does not foresee the predicted $4 rate increase, specially in terms of the departments within his control.

Mr. Duff, hesitating to comment on specific figures because he hasn't seen all of the FinCom's reductions, said he would join most townspeople in voting against a $4 increase, via the departmental budget route.

But he believes the increase won't be that great, based on the initial budgets he prepared and presented to the FinCom.

Trade Board Is 18-17 Against Renewal Plan

Little League To Seek Funds

A meeting of the finance drive committee of the Andover Little League Inc. will be held Monday evening, Feb. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Bay State Merchants National Bank meeting room.

All persons interested in working on this committee in raising funds for the operation of the League are urged to attend.

Richard E. Neal is the director in charge of the Finance Drive for 1963.

School Budget Down Slightly

The School Committee has reduced its budget by $1,945, after listening to an appeal from the Finance Committee to make certain reductions.

Actually, the Committee removed $5,945 from various items - then added $4,000 under repairs because of unforeseen replacement of the steam lines running from the power plant behind the Central School. That job, now underway, will cost at least $4,000 and was not anticipated when the budget was originally approved.

The Committee deducted $1,445 from salaries of non-teaching personnel.

The Board of Trade has voted, 18-17, against Urban Renewal.

At a meeting Tuesday night, 35 members of the Board cast their ballots to determine the Board's stand on the issue.

Prior to the voting, two spokesmen - on both sides of the question - spoke to the members.

Joseph B. Doherty spoke for the project; John Davidson represented the opponents. By a toss of a coin, Mr. Davidson opened the program.

He opened his statement by telling the Board of Trade that members should consider Urban Renewal solely as businessmen - not as residents of the town or for any other reason.

Stressing that local merchants serve a local need within the community, Davidson suggested that new buildings, higher rents and larger costs related to parking

Candidates' Statements

Candidates for major town offices speak out in today's Townsman, in response to questions from this newspaper.

Their replies to the questions - covering the wide range from Urban Renewal, to gravel pits, to matters of educational importance - are unedited and represent their opinions on these matters.

In providing this opportunity for the candidates to state opinions on issues, the Townsman offers its readers a chance to become better acquainted with the individuals and where they stand - or don't stand - on issues.

The questions asked for the candidates are those which the Townsman believes have considerable importance in relation to the positions the individuals seek to hold.

An Open Letter Concerning The CO-OP and Urban Renewal

Our local newspapers have recently carried stories on Urban Renewal which list the CO-OP as one of those participating in the proposed Realty Trust. This is the truth... but not the whole truth.

The CO-OP is vitally interested in what happens to the Andover business center. That is why we were among the very first to explore the merits of Urban Renewal, using our own funds to do so.

But because the CO-OP is owned and controlled by its 2700 members, only its members can officially determine CO-OP policy on a matter of this magnitude. Our annual stockholders' meeting takes place March 12.

In the interim, we will continue to show our interest as PROVISIONAL members of the proposed Realty Trust. If the town approves Urban Renewal on March 9, our shareholders will make the CO-OP's official decision three days later at our regularly scheduled annual meeting.

In order to make the town's vote on Urban Renewal as representative as possible, we hope that Town Meeting on March 9 will be well attended.

He supervises a technical group engaged in the development of components for communication systems at the Laboratories' branch in North Andover.

Mr. Grant, born in Almena, Kans., attended Kansas State University in Manhattan Kansas, and was awarded his B. S. degree in 1928. He joined the staff of Bell Labs that same year.

Society States Renewal Stand

The Board of Directors of the Andover Historical Society, through Frederick E. Cheever, have made the following statement on Urban Renewal:

"Being interested in the Town of Andover and all its history and background, we in the Andover Historical Society feel that we should make some comment on Urban Renewal as it applies to our town.

"Many people feel that the Town House should be torn down and replaced with shopping facilities and parking areas. In addition they feel that this area is the keystone for the entire project.

"This is not so. The intrinsic value of our Town House is great and is worthy of our interest. Updating the outer appearance as indicated in a sketch by Jack Frost and tying the building in with the Town Library would create a pleasing centerpiece. The interior has already been renovated and will serve the town's needs from an administrative standpoint for many years. We agree that the Fire House should be relocated because of its structural defects and the awkwardness of moving out the apparatus quickly. Therefore, we sincerely request the townspeople to give serious thought to the preservation of the Town House in its present location."

Invited To Hear About Vassar

An informal information hour has been arranged for girls in this area who are interested in learning more about Vassar College.

Plans for the hour include a series of slides showing the Vassar College campus, followed by questions to be answered by this year's president of Student Government, Miss Kate Sides. School B Candidates

A choice between two candidates for School Committee is off voters this year.

As they appear on the ballot, voters will find the names of Barbara G. Moody and James F. Sullivan.

In an attempt to bring the dates' views before the town prior to election, the Town has posed four questions for candidates. They are:

Do you favor any sort of system for teachers?

To what extent should the Committee be involved in educational matters, as from the business administration of the system?

Are you in general accord with the proposal to pay teachers if they are taking a year of academic study?

Do you favor the proposal for a vocational high school? Here are their replies:

BARBARA G. MOODY

"Differences between people are universally recognized. In the merit of the principle, a well-received and well-administered incentive plan will encourage superior performance and therefore will result in superior education for our children."

2. "The School Committee publishes the school budget, both educational and administrative functions. In the public interest, the School Committee should do everything it can to see that the town gets full value for the educational and administrative dollar."

3. "In those cases where the state of the art has advanced radically or drastically in years that the usual means of communication are insufficient to absorb, then such a proposal should be seriously considered."

4. "Yes, Andover, on its own could not hope to provide opportunity for serious, vocational training. A review of unemployment rolls and the recognition of the diminishing demand for skilled labor, leaves little doubt that this kind of training should be made available to our youth."

JAMES F. SULLIVAN

1. "The Andover School Committee is responsible for raising and maintaining the best possible staff it can, commensurate with the pay scales now in effect. To assure the continued ability to obtain qualified, competent personnel, the committee is obligated to a program of continuous salary reviews and increases."

2. "The Andover School Committee is responsible for raising and maintaining the best possible staff it can, commensurate with the pay scales now in effect. School Board Candidates Speak

A choice between two candidates for School Committee is offered the voters this year.

As they appear on the ballot, the voters will find the names of Barbara G. Moody and James F. Sullivan.

In an attempt to bring the candidates' views before the voters prior to election, the Townsman has posed four questions to the candidates. They are:

Do you favor any sort of merit system for teachers?

To what extent should the School Committee be involved in purely educational matters, as distinct from the business administration of the system?

Are you in general accord with the proposal to pay teachers, while they are taking a year of advanced study?

Do you favor the proposed regional vocational high school?

Here are their replies:

BARBARA G. MOODY
"Differences between people are universally recognized. I believe in the merit of the principle that a well-received and well-administered incentive plan will encourage superior performance and therefore will result in superior education for our children."

2. "The School Committee establishes the school budget for both educational and administrative functions. In the public's interest, the School Committee must do everything it can to see that the town gets full value for both the educational and administrative dollar."

3. "In those cases where the state of the art has advanced so radically or drastically in recent years that the usual means of communication are insufficient to keep abreast, then such a program should be seriously considered."

4. "Yes, Andover, on its own, could not hope to provide this opportunity for serious, vocational training. A review of unemployment rolls and the recognition of the diminishing demand for unskilled labor, leaves little doubt in a responsible citizen's mind that this kind of training should be made available to our youth."

JAMES F. SULLIVAN
1. "The Andover School Committee is responsible for recruiting and maintaining the best possible staff it can, commensurate with the pay scales now in effect. To assure the continued ability to obtain qualified, the committee is obligated to a program of continuous salary reviews and incentives."

2. "The primary purpose of the School Committee is the administration of the school system. The course content of the school curriculum should, in general, be left in the hands of the professional educators. However, the school committee has the moral obligation of ascertaining that the highest standards of education are being maintained within the system."

3. "An advanced degree does not necessarily improve teaching technique or ability. However, it does provide a depth in knowledge of subject material, which if applied, can strengthen the teacher in his presentation of course material. Therefore, I am in general accord with the present procedure which allows salary credits for both advanced degrees and special study programs."

4. "I do not feel that the Regional vocational High School will fulfill a need in the Andover School System. The need for this school has been predicated on the fact that 15,000 people in the greater Lawrence area are employed in trade and industrial occupations. Reference has been made to the fact that apprentice pay in most of the trades is low and for this reason many have avoided entering these vocations. It has been argued that the Regional Vocational High School will so prepare their graduates that they will enter the trades with advanced knowledge and presumably advance standing. To my knowledge, none of the local trade unions have stated that such graduates will start at any level other than the bottom of the apprentice scale. Indeed, the low starting salaries commanded by the apprentice tradesmen would appear to indicate that there is no shortage of applicants for the positions."

Appeal Under Study By Board

The Board of Appeals has taken under advisement an appeal by Florence St. residents over issuance of a building permit for an office building at 26-28 Florence St.

A hearing was held last Thursday, at which residents expressed their belief that the lot is residential.

Atty. Arthur Morley appeared for the former owner, Samuel E. Laurenza; Atty. Maurice Rappaport appeared for Robert Wilson and Arthur A. Collins, present owners; and Attys. Edward Gordon and William G. Evans appeared for the residents.

Engineer Clinton F. Goodwin appeared as a witness for the petitioners. He said he had prepared the assessors' maps and zoning maps in 1936. He expressed the belief that the 800-scale zoning map can not be scaled with accuracy. He told the Appeals Board that the lot in question should appear as being in the residential zone.

Building Inspector Arthur A. Peatman, who issued the building permit, said he did so after thorough study of the area. He told the Board that the zoning map has a scale on it, thus he believes it was meant to be scaled, when necessary. He did so, he reported, and found that the residential-business line runs through the lot in question. The by-laws give the inspector the authority to resolve such a situation, and he did so. He also noted that the town manager, by letter, stated that the town could do nothing but issue the permit, based on the zoning, an opinion he stated to be shared by town counsel.

Mr. Peatman also noted that the re-zoning for Urban Renewal, advertised for a hearing some time ago, listed this lot as in the business zone. It would be zoned residential under the proposal.

He said there had been no opposition expressed at the hearing, and that only three persons attended. Speaking against allowing the business use of the lot were Arthur Coleman, Joseph Barton, Eugene Zalla and John Grecoe.

Harry Mellett of Lowell St. placed third in the annual Silva Slalom, held Sunday at Pleasant Mountain, Bridgeton, Me. He was accompanied on the trip by his daughters, Harriet and Donna, and son, Bobby.

Housing
Candida

Three candidates are balloting March 4, seeking Housing Authority position. With Urban Renewal as a national responsibility of that city, the Townsman has asked the candidates to express views on that vital subject. Here are their answers to the question "Are you in favor of Urban Renewal?"

WINSTON A. BLAKE
"I am a candidate for the Housing Authority position. I am interested in housing, the continuing responsibility of this group, and hope to develop it into a sound civic program for the town of Andover. I have lived for 25 years."

"I am in favor of Urban Renewal. Although the basic decision is to the voters, I would like to see a position to help control Urban Renewal in the town's interests if it should be appropriate."

GEREMIAH P. DAVEY
"I am opposed to Urban Renewal. In its suggested present form, it is sure that the taxpayer will not accept it. It has been handled from the leaves a lot to be desired. There is no need for this crash program. Andover has always prospered and will continue to do so in the future."

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce has endorsed this with the statement 'They endorse and support an Urban Renewal program for Andover which utilizes sound principles of organized, municipal planning, renewal, to foster an expansion of the town's economic base.'"

"When it comes to sound principles of organized municipal planning, we have short. The Finance Committee is silent through an Urban Renewal discussion, and the Selectmen should be the leaders in the community, have yet to take action on this issue."

"Urban Renewal activities supposed to be under the control of the town's government, which approves specific projects, bond issues and budgets. The elected representatives of the people should be the basic direction of Urban Renewal, in this case Real Estate seems to be the governing factor."

THEODORE E. MEINEL
"One of the issues to be decided by the voters of Andover this year will be the question of Urban Renewal. There has been much said both for and against a program. However, today's rapid-moving economic conditions must be realistic and not mentalists. We must be able to objectively at new ideas and proposals. We should realize that we have had ones but nevertheless stand ready at all times to the challenge of progress in while projects."

"After careful examination of all the facts, I have come to the conclusion, first of all as a taxpayer of Andover, and secondly as a participant in Andover's business and economic life, that a well-planned and administered program of Urban Renewal would be of great benefit to every inhabitant in the town."

"The Andover business community was constructed and grew out of necessity and as a result...

Housing Authority Candidates Take Stand

Three candidates are on the ballot March 4, seeking one Housing Authority position.

With Urban Renewal as an additional responsibility of that Authority, the Townsman has asked each of the candidates to express his views on that vital subject.

Here are their answers, to the question "Are you in favor, or opposed to, Urban Renewal?"

WINSTON A. BLAKE

"I am a candidate for the Housing Authority for two reasons:

"I am interested in public housing, the continuing responsibility of this group, and hope to help develop it into a sound civic service for the town of Andover, where I have lived for 25 years.

"I am in favor of Urban Renewal.

Although the basic decision is up to the voters, I would like to be in a position to help control Urban Renewal in the town's best interests if it should be approved."

JEREMIAH P. DAVEY

"I am opposed to Urban Renewal in its suggested present form and feel sure that the taxpayers of Andover will not accept it. The way it has been handled from the start leaves a lot to be desired. I can see no need for this crash program; Andover has always progressed and will continue to do so in the future.

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce has endorsed this issue with the statement 'They heartily endorse and support an Urban Renewal program for Andover which utilizes sound principles of organized, municipal planning and renewal, to foster an expansion of the town's economic base.'

"When it comes to utilizing sound principles of organized municipal planning, we fall far short. The Finance Committee sat silent through an Urban Renewal discussion, and the Selectmen, who should be the leaders in the community, have yet to take a stand on this issue.

"Urban Renewal activities are supposed to be under the effective control of the town's governing body, which approves specific projects, bond issues and local budgets. The elected representatives of the people should control the basic direction of Urban Renewal, in this case Realty Trust seems to be the governing body."

THEODORE E. MEINELT
"One of the issues to be decided by the voters of Andover this spring will be the question regarding Urban Renewal. There has been much said both for and against such a program. However, in today's rapid-moving economy, we must be realists and not sentimentalists. We must be able to look objectively at new ideas and new proposals. We should reject the bad ones but nevertheless be constantly ready at all times to accept the challenge of progress in worthwhile projects.

"After careful examination of all the facts, I have come to the conclusion, first of all as a citizen and taxpayer of Andover, and secondly as a participant in Andover's business and economic life, that a well-planned and wisely administered program of Urban Renewal would be of great benefit to every inhabitant in the town of Andover.

"The Andover business center was constructed and grew from necessity and as a result many different forms of architecture have appeared. Not all of these types conform to the theme which would be in keeping with the traditional background of a New England town. Since many buildings are now quite old, it is only natural that they would not make a pleasing appearance. They are costly to maintain and many are in need of extensive renovation or repair. The tax yield therefore is necessarily low. Traffic congestion and parking are perennial problems. The town facilities are no longer adequate to handle the town's business efficiently, and with or without Urban Renewal attention, will have to be directed towards replacing or at least enlarging existing facilities. Roger's Brook remains constantly festering as an unsolved headache. All of these problems should and will be attended to in a sound Urban Renewal program.

"It must be pointed out however, that Urban Renewal in Andover should in no way be compared to so-called Urban Renewal projects in other cities; which in reality are slum clearance projects. Andover is a town steeped in New England tradition and a proud Colonial heritage. With this in mind as a general theme, with a sound plan well thought out and wisely administered, Urban Renewal can and should be encouraged and developed in Andover."

Great Books

The next reading for the Great Books Discussion Group will be Thornton Wilder's "Bridge Of San Luis Rey", a classic that needs no introduction. This would be a good time for those who want to sit in with the group and all are cordially invited to do so. The group meets every other Tuesday at the Memorial Hall Library and will hold the Thornton Wilder discussion Feb. 19, at 7:30 o'clock. A few copies of the reading are available at the library.

Movies For Young People

Movie programs are scheduled for Ballardvale and Andover young people during the school vacation. Monday afternoon, Feb. 18 at 4 o'clock, Ballardvale young people will see three films - "Karacham, The Little Bear", "Michio, School Boy Of Japan" and "African Girl, Malobi".

This program will last about three-quarters of an hour, and parents who wish to pick up children could plan accordingly.

In Andover, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 21, all boys and girls are invited to the same program at 3:35 o'clock.

Littlest Listeners

Feb. 14, Ballardvale Littlest Listeners will meet at the branch library at 10 o'clock for their story hour. The Robins group will meet in the Memorial Hall Library Wednesday, Feb. 20, for their usual story hour.

Films For Groups

Several films will be available at the library in the coming weeks that should find interested viewers. From Feb. 18-22, "African Girl - Malobi", an 11 minute color film, shows the young girl Malobi attending school in Nigeria. She is a member of the Ibo tribe, and in the film one sees her tribe members building homes in the traditional way, her grandfather carving furniture and trays, and some of the everyday experiences of a child in this part of the world; from Feb. 25-March 2, there is "South America" a color film that runs for nearly a half hour, suited to junior high, senior high and adult groups. Here is a study of the economic and social pattern and problems of South America; Indian cultures and present conditions are shown; the contrast between the few wealthy landowners and the many peasants is emphasized, while there is some discussion of the industrial efforts being made to improve the economy. From Feb. 25 to March 15 there is another color film, "Land Of The Pink Snow". For four days in March, there will be three more movies, two of which are intended for primary and elementary ages: from March 4-7 "Georgie and the Dragon" and "Animal Homes" may be borrowed. The third movie "Nautilus: Arctic Passage" shows in full color the historic voyage of the U. S. nuclear-powered submarine "Nautilus" from Pacific to the Atlantic Ocean by way of the North Pole. For those who wish to see the activities aboard a submarine this 14-minute film is excellent. There will be three Canadian travel films, in color, also available until the end of March. Reserve any films as early as possible.

SCHOOL BOARD REDUCES BUDGET

sonnel. Thus these employees will get the 3.75 percent wage increase being given all other employees, instead of five percent.

The sum of $2,500 came off salaries; $1,000 from physical education; and $1,000 was deducted from the supervisor of general services. That position has not been filled, and the Finance Committee recommended budgeting only the amount that would be needed from April 1, rather than for the full year.

The Committee turned down the FinCom's request to give teachers their pay boosts over a two-year period.

School Board members said this had all been discussed previously, and that the Board believes the teachers should be put on their proper steps in the salary schedule this year. There was no appreciable discussion on this point, as no member indicated a desire to even consider making the change.

The total budget, after the revisions, stands at $1,821,936. It is $216,166 higher than the 1962 appropriation.

No Decision On Renewal

The Selectmen have yet to up their minds on Urban Renewal. Following a meeting last night with the Housing Authority, three members of the Board discussed the various alternatives without conclusion.

Chairman Russell G. Doyl mentioned that the cost-income ratio is only one of the many phases of the program to be considered.

He suggested to U. R. Ernest N. Hall that a summary of the proposals be prepared for the voters, in the immense quantity of material available. He noted that it is difficult to understand the situation and a brochure of some kind should be made available.

Hall indicated that this done, as soon as the Committee has completed its work and made any suggestions.

During a discussion subject, which had been entirely financial in nature, noted that there are various involved. He suggested that son's ultimate decision be based on "whether you Urban Renewal approach with finances becoming a factor in the decision.

He pointed out that there has been a lot of time spent on the subject, and that any citizen has the opportunity to comment. He noted that there be no last-minute attempt anyone to throw new facts into the picture at town meeting. There was general agreement such material should receive attention, if presented for time at that March 9 session.

Selectman William Stewards there would be ample opportunity for this at the public Feb. 27.

During the visit of the Authority, various changes in methods of appropriating were explored. Mr. Hall said counsel will allow consideration, and other amounts be appropriated. It appears there was no change in the amounts needed - but altered in the way the money was appropriated.

Following the Authority's visit with the Selectmen, Mr. Stewards engaged in considerable discussion with other members, and appeared to be preparing some typed material on the program. It was impossible for reporters to hear the discussion.

Selectmen B. Allen Rowland and Philip K. Allen were not present.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

No Last-Minute Data

Selectman Russell G. Doyle has hit the nail on the head, by telling his colleagues on the Board that anyone bringing surprise information on Urban Renewal into town meeting should be discounted.

He, and Selectman James D. Wilson, were clear in their belief that there has been ample time to study this subject; that no last-minute efforts need to be made. In particular, Doyle referred to the possibility of new data being introduced as an effort to defeat the program — and said he will give it little consideration if it is brought in at the last minute.

Selectman William Stewart nodded agreement, and referred to the presentation of material at the public hearing Feb. 27.

We heartily agree with Mr. Doyle — no surprises are required, for there is ample information, and plenty of time, to discuss the subject thoroughly, prior to town meeting.

Can't Keep Rate Down

One of the pitfalls the town fell into in years past was the "keep the tax low" slogan.

No one, we hasten to state, enjoys seeing the rate jump. But neither should anyone expect it to stand still forever.

Over the years, the town meeting held the line and kept a low rate. But some needed services were postponed year after year; a number of items were indefinitely put off, when they should have been done.

The result was a booming tax rate — and voter unrest.

Now the town has maintained the $26 rate for some time; it is inevitable that there will be additional services and required improvements, which will drive the rate up.

We don't like to see a big jump — but we should all be prepared for an increase just the same.

Putting off some projects until next year or indefinitely, can result in higher costs, and larger increases in taxes, in years to come. This is the short sighted way — let's not do it again.

Read Their Statements

Interest in the town election seems to be slow in building up — but today's issue of the Townsman, containing answers by the candidates to questions we posed, plus the remaining candidates' night, should stimulate discussion.

We urge every voter to read the answers by the candidates, contained in this issue. And we suggest that each voter make it a requirement to attend the candidates' night Feb. 26, at the High School.

Public discussion of town affairs, and issues in the campaign, are healthy signs of a strong Democracy.

It is our responsibility, as citizens and voters, to become informed about the candidates and their position on major town issues.

This is the only way to reach a logical decision before marking the ballot March 4.

Shovel For The Mailmen

Some residents of the town apparently have forgotten to shovel out for their mailman . . . one carrier fell recently on a walk left covered with ice and snow.

He makes the point that side entrances are clear, and many persons have breezeways or closed entrances from garage to house. They forget that their mail box is at the front door, and thus do not shovel the walk.

It would be advisable for all of us to keep this in mind — the carriers, after all, shouldn't be placed in the position of wading through snow, over ice, to deliver our mail.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February, 1888

Mrs. B. Frank Smith and Miss Susie Smith are spending a week in New York.

The Tyer Rubber Co. expects a new engine next week, and plans to shut down their works for a week, when it arrives.

Hon. James C. Abbott of Lowell has been visiting his brother, George L. Abbott and other old friends in town. It is almost half a century since Mr. Abbott, as a boy, walked behind the team that carried his mother's goods to Lowell, where he has resided ever since, a useful, active, responsible citizen.

The Smith and Dove Manufacturing Co. is making over the old Cogswell place in Abbott Village into a tenement house.

50 Years Ago — February, 1913

Miss Elizabeth M. Anderson of the Andover Press composing room, who has been spending a vacation at her home in Scotland, is expected in Boston tomorrow.

Every kind of honest opinion on the big question of Andover's highways will be welcome at next Monday's meeting. If you do or you don't, come and tell your fellow citizens why.

Mrs. Loren Taylor and Miss Jenny Luce spent Sunday visiting friends in Boston.

The local ice companies have commenced the work of harvesting their ice supply, and from present indications, an abundant amount is assured.

M. J. Brennan's new soda fountain was installed in his bake shop in the Musgrove building this week and makes a fine addition to this store.

25 Years Ago — February, 1938

The town faces a tax rate of $32.65, according to the Finance Committee, an increase of $5.85 over a year ago.

The Red Cross has issued an appeal to all residents of the town for warm winter clothing, for needy residents. Children's and adults coats and shoes are specially in demand.

It looks like J. Everett Collins will be unopposed for re-election as Selectman and Assessor. He'll be the first to run without opposition in many years.

Three special exhibits will be the features of the Historical Society's remembrance of Washington's Birthday.

The Periodical Club of Christ Church will hold a bakery sale tomorrow afternoon in the vacant store in the Musgrove Building.

Announcement of a building fund drive, to enlarge Abbot Academy, was made this week at a dinner in Boston. The sum of $150,000 is needed. Nearly 300 alumnae and friends attended the banquet.

A Committee appointed last March to find out about getting all the town offices back into the town hall reports that it is not practical to renovate the structure. Instead, members want another committee appointed to study plans for a new building, which might be ready for 1946.

Should Community Accept Federal Aid?

In view of the long debates and opposing philosophies about accepting federal aid for Andover's proposed Urban Renewal program, the Townsman has solicited two opinions — one for, the other against. Wallace M. Haselton, 82 Holt rd., has written a statement expressing the opinion of those favoring acceptance of federal aid.

Selectman B. Allen Rowland of Central st. has presented his statement to the contrary.

The opinions of the two men are offered here, in an attempt to bring these opposing philosophies into perspective for voters who will act on Urban Renewal March 9.

By B. Allen Rowland

"The purpose of this statement is not in any way to be construed as an indication of how I shall vote on the question of Urban Renewal at the town meeting March 9.

"It has been my feeling that a town such as Andover, being small and enterprising, with an average income per capita higher than the average town, ought not be aided by Federal Government funds.

"It is only fair to assume that given the opportunity, our citizenry would be enterprising enough to modernize the community on a private basis rather than on a public basis. In my opinion there is sufficient evidence available to make this a reasonable assumption.

"In utilizing a private enterprise plan, the job would be carried out in a more conservative fashion, and probably would take less time, if one considers the experience of urban renewal projects in other areas. It would cost the taxpayers less money, providing that the new municipal buildings be limited to the actual needs. For example, the police station, plus renovation of the present town hall.

"In looking at the Andover Urban Renewal Plan itself, please note that qualified people have made a series of estimates in order to indicate how much the net cost of the project would be to the town. It is well-known in the construction business that estimates have a general tendency to be on the low side. In addition to this factor, there is the problem of getting the individuals or groups to take on the cost of construction of new buildings as the old ones are demolished. Owing to the high cost of new buildings, this probably could cause considerable delay in the execution of the Urban Renewal Plan.

"As noted above, it appears to me that under the private system, re-development of the center of town might progress more smoothly, but the threat of Urban Renewal must be removed before this could happen."

LEAGUE MEETINGS ON URBAN RENEWAL

Two special meetings will be held by the Andover League of Women Voters Tuesday, Feb. 19, to discuss Urban Renewal.

The first session will be held at 9:45 a.m. at the Alumni House, on School st.; the second session will be held at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. M. Cole, 268 Highland rd. All members are urged to attend so that a consensus of the League can be taken.

By Wallace M. Haselton

"Isn't there something wrong with a Town like Andover accepting Federal and State Funds for this Urban Renewal Project?

"Answer: There would definitely be, if we were trying to get something for nothing, but we are not Andover's citizens, with a high per capita average income, receive back less than 60¢ of every one dollar in taxes we pay to the Federal Government. Many say they would like to return to the good old days of local independence, but do they really want to turn the clock back?

"Both political parties have continued in one guise or another the trend towards centralizing in Washington more and more of the functions that years ago were the responsibility of the local community. As a result, Andover's government and individual citizens must accept, from Federal and State Government, school aid, road aid, housing aid, aid for the elderly, veterans aid, social security payments, school lunch programs, on and on ad infinitum. Why? Because we must if we are to survive.

"If we could secede from the Union and have our citizens send their present direct and indirect Federal and State taxes to our town tax collector, it would definitely be immoral to then try to obtain subsidies from the rest of the 49 states in the Union. We must face facts and recognize that we can't pay our share to put a man on the moon and also pay for all of our other necessary local projects, without having the use of some of our own federal and state taxes. The money used for such projects as Urban Renewal is appropriated by our elected representatives in federal and state government. If the majority of the people did not want it that way, these representatives would not be elected to public office.

"The alert communities are endeavoring to prevent their own tax money from being used in a way that is unproductive to the economy. The only justification for spending government funds is to produce the maximum human, social and economic values.

"Andover's taxpaying citizens are as wise as they are in other states, and we must do our utmost to use every asset we have productively. We do not think they know how to spend our money better in other communities than we do in Andover. Funds spent for an Urban Renewal Program, such as has been proposed for Andover Center, will result in new buildings being erected that will broaden the real estate tax base and produce more local revenue that will pay off Andover's share of the costs.

"Further, the increased business in the area will produce more federal and state direct and indirect taxes. In essence, funds spent in this manner create productive assets that pay back the invested capital, to say nothing of the social values returned."

He stated his belief that years of "turmoil" will result from Urban Renewal; that habits will be altered; that changes could not recover losses, resulting from disturbance.

Referring to the possible merchants might feel that approve Urban Renewal, good of the town. I wondered how individual feel if they find that "they" — he suggested it would be expensive mistake.

Mr. Doherty, present positive approach to Renewal, said there is overloading and overparking downtown.

He told the members thousands of dollars are spent elsewhere, so "we are alright as we are."

He pointed out that outlying of the town will gradually their own small shopping the residents will shop where work, in preference to downtown.

Referring to Mr. Day comments about the dangers outsiders coming into the area, and the lack of room if present merchants take up all of the town.

Mr. Doherty said many businesses want good competition that business thrives on. He also noted that after all of businesses are located in there would be room for additional stores to meet the demand. The local merchants, he would have the chance to greater space than they now indicating that many have space are presently too crowded.

He also commented that economically unsound for individual to buy up expensive buildings, with small areas of tear down the buildings, and parking. This can better be through the Urban Renewal program. Mr. Doherty also stated the construction of new buildings can be done in conjunction with the plan for a lot money, thus resulting in a substantial saving to the town.

He also commented that will be "over $500,000" in cash, and that considerable may be used to defray the article appropriations.

Mr. Marsden said earlier week that this will be consistent with what there isn't enough in free cash to fund all the special articles.

He also noted that 14 accounts requested are in issues, and would not have as affect this year as next.

He stated his belief that 10-20 years of "turmoil" will result from Urban Renewal; that buying chants could not recoup their turbance.

Referring to the possibility that merchants might feel they should approve Urban Renewal for the good of the town, Davidson wondered how individuals would feel if they find that "they goofed"
- he suggested it would be a very expensive mistake.

Mr. Doherty, presenting the Renewal-Realty Trust program which will be voted on at town meeting?

Should the Selectmen confine themselves to policy, meeting infrequently, or overlap into administration?

Do you think the Selectmen should control gravel pits or should some other town agency do this job?

The answers:

PAUL W. CRONIN

"2. Believe that the 'Central Andover' renewal project could be a good thing for Andover's business district. However, at the time of this writing (submitted for Monday's deadline) many questions remain unanswered. I feel and I believe that most people in the town would like the assurance that this project would definitely be developed by a local group not an out of town or even an out of state developer. I feel we should be given this absolute assurance before being asked to accept Renewal at the town meeting. At this time, the most logical group, the Realty Trust, has not officially formed. Thursday evening they hope to raise $150,000 through public subscription. If this is accomplished they then hope to negotiate a $430,000 loan from the small Business Administration. Once this group becomes a legal entity, raises the $150,000, and finally negotiates a $430,000 S.B.A. loan, it will then have a total of $580,000 in capital. The Authority has published a figure of $1,064,600 in its literature as the 'resale value of land'.

"At last Thursday's meeting of the Housing Authority, with the Urban Renewal Director, the spokesmen of the proposed Realty Trust, and the candidates, it was stated that the asking price for this particular tract would be about $900,000 and that they expected to receive in the vicinity of $850,000.

"Once the Trust has the necessary capital they can then go to the Housing Authority and negotiate the price of the land. The Authority then sends this price plus the plan the Trust proposed to New York or Washington. The federal authorities then review the group, the plan, and the amount offered. If the amount is reasonable in light of the original appraisal and the second appraisal yet to be accomplished, then they may accept the offer. This would preclude any future bidding. If it was not acceptable for any reason at that time, then the authorities stated that while the federal government preferred local development of a project they also had a moral and legal obligation to obtain the highest possible price for the land, within reason. It was stated that if an outside developer offered a higher bid, then the Trust would be given an opportunity to match this amount. If they could not match these funds, then the town would be faced with the prospect of an outside developer, providing he could fulfill the requirements of on site planning and architectural design, coming in and redeveloping our central business district. I think this could lead to many hardships and many problems for large segments of our population.

"In view of these many gaps, I feel that for a candidate to answer yes or no to your question is a purely political answer in the hope of gaining votes. An honest answer requires 'A careful evaluation of all the facts. At this time the facts are still in a state of flux.

Selectmen: "Selectmen should definitely be the policy-making board of the town. The selectmen, if possible, should not stray from areas of policy. However, there are areas where it is difficult to distinguish between administration and policy. Therefore, in the best interests of efficient and effective government there are times where co-operation is the watchword. If the selectmen can spend more time on policy and less on administration, it would then be possible to have less meetings per year and still accomplish the job efficiently. If less time were required, it might bring qualified men with limited time into this area of public service.

Gravel pits: "Selectmen, as the policy-making board of the charter, should set a firm policy concerning gravel pits. It is then up to the town manager to assure that this policy is carried out through the building inspector or some other agent appointed by the Manager."

R. WAYNE LONG

Urban Renewal: "I cannot be sure at this time what the Selectmen and the Urban Renewal Committee will present at the town meeting. There have been so many changes and modifications to the plans for U.R. that I, like many others in the town, am confused. I am however, trying to make a comprehensive study so that I may vote intelligently at the town meeting. I have been told that the small town Urban Renewal has been relatively unsuccessful to date. Therefore, I am not certain if Urban Renewal will work in Andover. Are there alternatives to Urban Renewal? If so, what are they and will they be as good as Urban Renewal? These are questions that I am trying to answer and have as yet not made any conclusions.

Policy Making: "The Selectmen should meet as often as necessary to set policy. The overlapping of responsibilities should be in the form of suggestions between these two functions.

Gravel Pits: "The granting of permits for the removal of gravel should be closely controlled. The indiscriminate issuance of permits could cause unsightly gouging of land throughout the town. This is especially true with all the roads under construction in the area. The Selectman should not be required to travel to the pits for verification of restrictions. This should be handled by the town manager, with the help of the town engineer and the Selectmen can then act upon the manager's recommendations."

KENNETH P. THOMPSON

Urban Renewal: "It would be rather difficult for me to give a definite yes or no to the Urban Renewal question at this time. There are still several factors to be solved which I understand will be answered on or before town meeting day by the Housing Authority and others close to the situation.

"In order that the Andover Townsman or its readers will not feel that I am trying to duck an important issue, let me hasten to say that from what I have learned of Urban Renewal to date, it appears to have a lot of merit. However, we must weigh its good points against its bad points and determine which course to take.

"This country was founded and has grown through the efforts of men with vision. We who have lived in Andover many years have seen progress in our town even though it may have been a little slow at times and this is no time to stop looking into the future. If we can see our future problems before they arise and find a remedy, there is no problem.

"At town meeting a few years back we gave the Housing Authority the responsibility of looking into Urban Renewal for Andover. Regardless of how we felt as individuals, the majority of voters present gave them a vote of confidence to act in our behalf. The Housing Authority obtained the services of qualified Surveyors, Planners, Engineers and Consultants to get the necessary facts and figures in order that we, as taxpayers, could again sit down at town meeting and intelligently vote on a question that will affect our future which ever way it turns out.

"There are those that are opposed and those that are in favor of Urban Renewal, all for reasons which no doubt have merit. What we all must do is weigh the facts as they are presented at town meeting and unselfishly vote for what we think is best for Andover, our town, in which we should always be proud.

"If anyone is not satisfied with my answer to your question, I would be glad to discuss my reasons for not taking a definite stand at this time, with them.

Policy: "The Selectmen, as an elected body, are charged with the responsibility of setting the policy and running the town as spelled out in the Selectman-Town Manager Charter for Andover. The town manager's duties are likewise spelled out and there should be no overlapping unless the Selectmen feel that the town manager is not properly carrying out his duties.

"The Selectmen should meet as frequently as is necessary to properly perform their duties.

Gravel Pits: "This is a question which I prefer not to give a final answer to. As it appears to me, without having all the facts, the Selectmen should not have to spend time viewing gravel pits. As Selectmen, they are charged with the responsibility of all town affairs, except the School Dept. While they must have some sort of control, I do believe that the handling of permits and policing of gravel pits should be handled by some other department in town."

Bird Lore Was Studied By Club

Under the leadership of Mrs. Aline M. Wright, at the Feb. 3 meeting of the Andover Junior Garden Club, junior gardeners participated in a comprehensive program of bird lore as advanced by the National Audubon Society.

Mrs. Wright was assisted by Mrs. John B. Cecil Jr. of Boxford, who exhibited a varied collection of birds nests, explaining their methods and habits in the building of these nests. Recordings of bird songs, and a large collection of bird feathers, helped complete a picture of native bird life.

Mrs. Robert H. Lange, Mrs. Richard Anderson and Mrs. Walter Curtis directed and graded a quiz on recognition of winter trees. Highest scores were achieved by Barbara Hamilton, Linda Look, Phyllis Thomas and Frederic Thomas. Prizes awarded were model bird kits.

Mrs. Francis H. McCabe, chairman of the Junior Garden Club, announced that the March meeting, which would demonstrate the vital part played by conservation and fire prevention, and entitled "Your Land and Mine", would be under the direction of Mrs. Robert H. Lange.

Comparison Of Figures In Error

In a recent story on Future school enrollment statistics, we reported a comparison between current estimates and those made in 1960. Erroneously, we compared predictions for 1968 - made in 1960 - with predictions for 1970 - made currently. Thus the margin of error appeared far greater than it actually is.

School Committee member John S. Sullivan provides the following statistics, from the 1960 and the 1963 predictions:

Original study - predicted 4,443 to 5,091 by the school year starting in 1968.

Present study - predicts 5,224 in 1968.

Mr. Sullivan points out that the margin in error - 133 - is small percentage-wise in terms of statistical forecasting.
